The cathedral signifies a potent time in Zanzibar's history and stands on the sight of a past slave market. Abolished in 1873 by decree of the Sultan of Zanzibar, the cathedral's high altar stands on the exact site of the whipping post that was in the market.

From here we visit the residence of the late Sultan, 'Tip Tip House', the Old Fort, Peoples Palace' and the House of Wonders', and the Hamamni Persian Baths. The tour ends with a stroll down the narrow streets of the old Stonetown, the heart of Zanzibar's vivacious history.

Lunch is included today. For centuries, trade and migration have left their mark on Zanzibar, resulting in one of the richest and most diverse food cultures in East Africa.
